

ESTD

1996

SYSTEM FAILURE BOOT CAMP

Monday, April 14, 2025

Office of the Attorney General
600 E. Boulevard Avenue, Dept. 125
Bismarck, ND 58505-0040

Subject: AG Wrigley: Does SB 2307 Ban the Bible?

To: Attorney General Drew Wrigley
From: Chaz Stevens, First Amendment Firebrand

Chaz Stevens here—First Amendment firebrand who beat Florida’s book bans with their own laws. Now, North Dakota’s SB 2307 is my target.

Your state’s new anti-obscenity law, SB 2307, is so broadly written it ensnares the very texts many hold sacred. Let’s examine the unintended consequences:

Exhibit 1: The Bible

SB 2307’s dragnet snares scripture:

- Incest and orgies (Genesis 19:30-38)
- Horse-sized lust (Ezekiel 23:20)
- Cannibal curses (Leviticus 26:29)
- Baby-smashing psalms (Psalm 137:9)

If this isn’t “obscene,” your law’s a paper tiger.

Exhibit 2: Merriam-Webster Dictionary

Definitions include:

- “Masturbation,” “oral sex,” “intercourse”
- “F*ck,” “sh*t,” and “a**hole”
- Clinical filth under the guise of reference
- My personal favorites -- “getting it on”, “kinky”, and, well, the C-word

If Webster’s too spicy, what’s safe?

Exhibit 3: Roget’s Thesaurus

Roget’s Thesaurus, particularly in its earlier editions, includes terms that are now recognized as offensive or derogatory.

REVOLT

Synonyms for:

- “Fornication”
- “Promiscuity”
- “Prostitution”

Even your thesaurus isn't safe from SB 2307's reach.

The Ask

SB 2307 lets anyone demand your take, so here's mine:

Does your law ban the Bible, Webster's, and Roget's?

Say no, and it's a toothless prop for grandstanding. Say yes, and your churches lose their Good Book.

Pick your poison, General—your law's on trial.

Dr. T. Chaz Stevens
Founder, Revolt.Training
Pro Se Litigant | First Amendment Enforcer
954-901-0971
chazstevens@gmail.com
<https://revolt.training/donate>

P.S. I singlehandedly forced Governor DeSantis to backpedal on Florida's draconian book ban.

And as a pro se federal litigant, I made Broward Schools rewrite their ridiculous church banner policy.

This ain't my first rodeo. My fights? They're bold, visual, and built for headlines — because they're real, and they work.

About Chaz Stevens:

Founder of Revolt.Training, Stevens teaches citizens creative advocacy tactics, weaponizing absurd laws against their makers. Now targeting North Dakota's SB 2307 censorship law, he's continuing his holy war against hypocrites and the high and mighty everywhere.